ED.M. PROGRAM IN SOCIAL STUDIES EDUCATION

I. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: The Ed.M. in Social Studies Education without certification is a 30-credit program resulting in a master’s degree only. Most students choosing this option already have a teaching certificate, and are interested in further study in social studies education. Many are actively teaching, and continue their teaching careers while attending the program. This program is well suited to students with career interests in teaching, curriculum and educational research at the elementary, secondary, and college levels who already have, or do not seek, state certification in K-12 education.

To complete the Ed.M. degree in social studies education, students must take a minimum of 30 credits in social studies, general education, and fields appropriate to social studies content. They must also pass a comprehensive exam. Course of study, including choices of electives and possible independent study must be made with advisor approval.

This program does not include coursework leading to a New Jersey school personnel license.
