Course Description:

Education Policy and Policy Making will focus on early childhood education policy. We will examine policy and policymaking as it evolved historically for: Head Start, early intervention and preschool for children with disabilities, preschool education in the public schools, child care, home visiting, and parenting subsidies including parental leave. Students will have the opportunity to choose their own more specific focus and will produce a research-based policy brief on a topic of their choice. The meeting schedule will be adjusted to meet student needs.
