

ED.M. IN LANGUAGE EDUCATION WITH ADVANCED CERTIFICATION: BILINGUAL/BICULTURAL EDUCATION (BBE)

Revised April 2025

I. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Ed.M. in Language Education with Advanced Certification: Bilingual/Bicultural Education (BBE) offered at the GSE provides advanced preparation for certified teachers who wish to extend and diversify their professional preparation and seek to enhance their instructional skills and knowledge in bilingual/bicultural education.

The Ed.M. with Advanced Certification: Bilingual/Bicultural Education (BBE) is intended for educators who already hold a New Jersey Standard Instructional Certificate or a Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) and wish to become certified in Bilingual/Bicultural Education (BBE). Students must demonstrate their proficiency in a language other than English to qualify for the New Jersey BBE certification. The program prepares students with a thorough understanding of the nature of language, the process of second language acquisition, the relationship between language and culture, and successful models of multilingual language and content instructional strategies. Students develop advanced knowledge in linguistics, language pedagogy, and the cultural context of language education.

This program does not lead to initial teacher certification. It is intended as an advanced degree and advanced certificate program. Applicants interested in obtaining their initial teaching certification should contact the Office of Student and Academic Services at academic.services@gse.rutgers.edu.

II. APPLICATION DEADLINES:

Fall admission – May 1 deadline

Spring admission – December 1 deadline

Summer admission – May 1 deadline
