*Students who complete this program successfully will receive an Ed.M. in Dance Education from the GSE as well as a nomination to the New Jersey Department of Education for a Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) in Dance (K-12)

I. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: The Ed.M. in Dance Education with Initial Certification in Dance K-12 Teaching (4+1), offered jointly by the GSE and Rutgers' Mason Gross School of the Arts, is designed for Rutgers undergraduate students who wish to teach dance in grades K-12. This program provides undergraduates with an opportunity to earn their bachelor's degree, a master's degree, and an initial teacher certification with just one additional year of study. Rutgers undergraduates do preliminary coursework as advised during the first three undergraduate years, including undergraduate coursework in dance or a closely related field. They are admitted to the program during the spring semester of junior year and enter the professional education sequence during senior year. After students are awarded a bachelor's degree by the undergraduate college, they continue with the professional sequence for a fifth year of full-time graduate study at the GSE.

Upon completion of all five-year program requirements, students earn an Ed.M. in Dance Education and the GSE will make a nomination to the New Jersey Department of Education on behalf of the student to receive a Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) in Teacher of Dance (K-12).

The Ed.M. in Dance Education with Initial Certification in Dance K-12 Teaching (4+1) program offers a range of foundational and specialized topics in dance education using a cohort model. Students deepen their understanding of dance education through comprehensive, empirically driven curriculum and carefully curated coursework to equip students with the skills and experience needed to fulfill teaching and administrative roles in the arts and education. Students engage in experiences to develop their knowledge of dance-as-art as an educational and community practice; dance learning contexts for their potential to nurture identity formation, engender empathy, embrace diverse perspectives, and shape social transformation; curriculum development, advocacy, strategies for instruction, class management, and assessment.

In alignment with the GSE's mission, all teacher preparation programs and courses are designed to prepare teacher candidates to be culturally responsive practitioners and effectively teach diverse learners by fostering a deep understanding of students from historically underserved linguistic, economic, and cultural backgrounds and communities. Pedagogy courses aimed at meeting the specific learning needs of elementary, middle and high school students, along with carefully crafted internships under the guidance of experienced teachers and expert faculty providing feedback, ensure that candidates are well-prepared as teachers to advance equity and excellence in their content area.
