*Students who complete this program successfully will receive an Ed.M. in Language Education from the GSE as well as a nomination to the New Jersey Department of Education for a Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) in the target language, English as a Second Language, and Bilingual/Bicultural Education.

I. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: The Ed.M. in Language Education with initial certification program is designed for Rutgers undergraduate students who wish to teach world language and/or English as a Second Language (ESL) and/or bilingual education in grades K-12. This program provides undergraduates with an opportunity to earn their bachelor's degree, a master's degree, and an initial teacher certification with just one additional year of study. Rutgers undergraduates do preliminary coursework as advised during the first three undergraduate years, including undergraduate coursework in world language. They are admitted to the program during the spring semester of junior year and enter the professional education sequence during senior year. After students are awarded a bachelor's degree by the undergraduate college, they continue with the professional sequence for a fifth year of full-time graduate study at the GSE.

Upon completion of all program requirements, students earn an Ed.M. in Language Education and the GSE will make a nomination to the New Jersey Department of Education on behalf of the student to receive a Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) in Teacher of the target language (K-12), English as a Second Language (K-12), and Bilingual/Bicultural Education (K-12).

The Ed.M. in Language Education with Initial Certification in the target language K-12, ESL K-12, and Bilingual/Bicultural Education K-12 Teaching (4+1) program offers a range of foundational and specialized topics in world language, ESL, and bilingual education using a cohort model. These topics include the principles of classroom learning, evaluation and assessment, educational psychology, and classroom organization, but with specific appreciation for their context in ESL, world language, and bilingual education. Students will learn the process of second language acquisition, how languages work, and teaching methods that develop their students' English language development alongside content learning in ways that build from students' linguistic and cultural resources for ESL, target language and culture development for World Language, and bilingual development for Bilingual/Bicultural Education.

In alignment with the GSE's mission, all teacher preparation programs and courses are designed to prepare teacher candidates to be culturally responsive practitioners and effectively teach diverse learners by fostering a deep understanding of students from historically underserved linguistic, economic, and cultural backgrounds and communities. Pedagogy courses aimed at meeting the specific learning needs of elementary, middle and high school students, along with carefully crafted internships under the guidance of experienced teachers and expert faculty providing feedback, ensure that candidates are well-prepared as teachers to advance equity and excellence in their content area.

II. MAJOR: Every candidate for certification in World Language Education, ESL, and Bilingual/Bicultural Education must complete a full major in an approved target language other than English.
