

ED.M. WITH INITIAL LICENSURE IN WORLD LANGUAGE, ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE, AND BILINGUAL K-12 TEACHING (FIVE-YEAR)

Revised Summer, 2024 -- For students earning a bachelor's degree in May, 2026 or later

*Students who complete this program successfully will receive an Ed.M. in Language Education from the GSE as well as a recommendation to the New Jersey Department of Education for a Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) in the target language, English as a Second Language, and Bilingual/Bicultural.

I. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: The Ed.M. with Initial Licensure in World Language, ESL, and Bilingual K-12 Teaching (Five-Year) is designed for Rutgers undergraduate students who wish to teach world language and/or English as a Second Language (ESL) and/or bilingual education in grades K-12. This program provides undergraduates an opportunity to earn their bachelor's degree, a master's degree, and an initial teacher certification with just one additional year of study. Rutgers undergraduates do preliminary coursework as advised during the first three undergraduate years, including undergraduate coursework in world language. They are admitted to the program during the spring semester of the junior year and enter the professional education sequence during their senior year. After students are awarded a bachelor's by the undergraduate college, they continue with the professional sequence for a fifth year of full-time graduate study at the GSE.

Upon completion of all five-year program requirements, students earn an Ed.M. in Language Education and the GSE will make a recommendation to the New Jersey State Department of Education on behalf of the student to receive a Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) as a teacher of the target language K-12, English as a Second Language K-12, and Bilingual Bicultural (K-12).

The Ed.M. with Initial Licensure in World Language K-12, ESL K-12, and Bilingual Education Teaching (Five-Year) offers a range of foundational and specialized topics in world language, ESL, and bilingual education using a cohort model. These topics include the principles of classroom learning, evaluation and assessment, educational psychology, and classroom organization, but with specific appreciation for their context in ESL, world language, and bilingual education. Students will learn the process of second language acquisition, how languages work, and teaching methods that develop their students' English language development alongside content learning in ways that build from students' linguistic and cultural resources for ESL, target language and culture development for World Language, and bilingual development for Bilingual Education.

In alignment with the GSE's mission, all teacher preparation programs and courses are designed to prepare teacher candidates to be culturally responsive practitioners and effectively teach diverse learners by fostering a deep understanding of students from historically underserved linguistic, economic, and cultural backgrounds and communities. Pedagogy courses aimed at meeting the specific learning needs of elementary, middle and high school students, along with carefully crafted internships under the guidance of experienced teachers and expert faculty providing feedback, ensure that candidates are well-prepared as teachers to advance equity and excellence in their content area.

II. MAJOR: Every candidate for certification in World Language Education, ESL, and Bilingual must complete a full major in an approved target language other than English. Languages available: Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Latin, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish.

Consider starting an additional state licensure program and/or a Rutgers certificate program while working on your master's degree requirements. In consultation with your advisor, you may consider taking courses from these areas in place of your graduate-level elective(s).*

You must complete an application form and obtain a signature from your faculty advisor prior to the final semester of the program. The application forms are available in the Office of Student and Academic Services or by emailing Marie Pavelchak at: marie.pavelchak@gse.rutgers.edu. Some programs require licensure exams for admission and/or certification recommendation.

These programs do not lead to a degree of any kind.

It is your responsibility to enroll in all of the required courses through Rutgers University. No program requirements may be met at any other institution. You are expected to maintain a "B" or better average in the non-degree coursework.

After completing all of the required courses in a NJ certification program, you should contact Ken Tufo in the Office of Student and Academic Services for instructions on applying for the state endorsement. Please note that you cannot obtain an endorsement until you complete the initial teacher certification. After completing all of the required courses in a GSE certificate program, you contact Marie Pavelchak to obtain your completion certificate.

*Not all courses are available to five-year students during their senior year. You may not be able to complete these programs until after you earn your master's degree. Please email ken.tufo@gse.rutgers.edu for specifics.
